Dinner Party For

Shirley Burge

The Home Office girls entertained Shirley Burge, secretary for Agency and Underwriting, with a dinner party at the Town and Country Restaurant, in honor of her forthcoming marriage. After dinner Shirley was presented with a gift.

House Rules Unit

Liberal Democrats are quietly organizing a new drive to curtail the House Rules Committee's power to stifle and delay major legislation.

This attack, unlike others that have failed in recent years, appears to have sufficiently broad support to raise a serious threat to the continued role of the committee as the chief Congressional bottleneck for bills favored by the liberals.

Systematic saving is the way to what you want, Buy U. S. Savings Bonds regularly where you bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Postal Rates

The House Post Office Committee has taken no action on proposed postal rate increases that would yield $554,000,000 a year. This apparently doomed the Administration measure.

Farm folks have more of their savings in U. S. Savings Bonds than in any other form of ready cash savings. About $5 1-2 billions in Series E and H bonds is the latest figure.

YOUNG FARMERS HAVE FAMILY PICNIC

Members of the Appomattox Young Farmers Club held one of their annual family meetings last Saturday night. The occasion was a hamburger supper, outside grill style, at the home of Elantha Drinkard. Mr. W. C. Dudley, Area Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, and his family were guests of the young farmer group.About twenty-five members and guests participated in the supper and games of croquet, badminton, and horseshoes, which followed.

Fred Jones, of Route 1, is the current president of the Young Farmer Club. The group meets regularly once a month at the high school to discuss farm problems and practices.

U. S. Savings Bonds are backed by the full faith and credit of the United States. You know in advance exactly how much they will be worth in cash at any time in the future. Buy and hold E or H bonds.
